

Belmont Filly Wins at Terminal Meeting

Mission Captures Dinner Stakes in Nose Finish with Gold Plate.

MORE THAN 5,000 PERSONS SEE SPORT

Big Attendance Points to Strong Revival of Interest in Racing This Season.

There was joy in the Belmont stables last night. Mission, daughter of Rock Sand, made her bow as a jumper on a local track at the second day's meeting of the United Hunts Racing Association at Belmont Park yesterday afternoon and won the Sportsman's Steeplechase Dinner Stakes after a finish that will go down in the annals of amateur meets.

August Belmont was there to see the mare run, and said after the race that he was more than pleased with her performance.

It was perhaps the first time that a Belmont horse ever went to the post with borrowed colors. When the saddling bell sounded it was found that there was not a set of the scarlet and maroon silks to be found on the place. So B. Haynes went to the post wearing the yellow and blue cash of the Robert L. Gerry stable.

Gold Plate, veteran among veteran jumpers, was the only other starter, with the impost of 172 pounds, giving 22 to the Rock Sand mare. That weight and the latter's lineage and training on the flat did as much as anything to win in the stirring drive to the wire. Mission was jumping high and going wide at the turns. However, she did well, considering that this is only her third race as a jumper.

Gold Plate set the pace, but Mission was never more than a length or two behind, and the daughter of Rock Sand was content to stay there. The crowd knew that the race would be fought out on the flat.

As the pair went over the last jump Mission moved up.

It was nose and nose down the stretch in a flurry of whips. The cheers of the crowd went a note higher as Mission moved slowly ahead in the last thirty yards. Mission won by a short head.

It was more like a dress rehearsal of the opening of the real racing season at the big track across the road than a hunt club meeting. While the society colony of Long Island contributed its quota, more than 5,000 of the regulars whetted their appetites with a rattling good card of seven races.

It was the biggest crowd at any amateur meeting so far. Most of the favorites performed as their backers expected them to do. Still, for no reason in the world, Miss Lander's hand played "Just Break the News to Mother," and in one-step time at that. "Some race!" was the comment of one of the racegoers after Robert L. Gerry's Footlights had flashed over the line winner of the Hempstead Handicap "chase of two miles. It was, too. True, only nine of the twenty-five nominees went to the post, and Mrs. Payne Whitney's highly considered Marcellinus and Highbridge were not of the number. But it was a race that was worth going miles to see.

Peregrine Pickle disappointed again, but this time it was not so much his fault. His owner, F. Ambrose Clark, failed to make the best of his opportunities, and, as some one along the rail said, "seemed to think he was riding in a five-mile race." Peregrine was unplaced.

Big Sandy, from which Francis Sargent, Jr., has reason to expect great things this summer, went out in front and set a rattling pace. The Evader and Footlights were always close, the latter going to the front at the last turn to win by several lengths. Sandy and The Evader finished in the order named.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Ballet was little better than she was a week ago, and finished pulled up. Meadowlark made his bid early and shot his bolt in the making of it.

Reynolds re-established himself in the good graces of his admirers by breezing in a winner in the Montauk Handicap, for gallopers, at about four and a half furlongs.

The son of Star Shoot was a lot better than he was a week ago, and getting off.

Summerly Costumes at Spring Race Meeting

Society Turns Out in Force and Gay Array at Belmont Park Terminal.

Society again showed its love for the horse by turning out in large numbers for the second day of the United Hunts Racing Association meeting at Belmont Park Terminal yesterday afternoon.

The weather conditions were all that could be desired, and on this account the costumes worn were more suggestive of summer than those seen at the previous race meetings this spring.

Hats and wraps were discarded and in their place were seen some of the new fashions of the season in hats and gowns. As usual at the races at this track, many had luncheon at the Turf and Field Club near by. Some of the members of the Nassau County Kennel Club, which held its annual show yesterday at Belmont Park, also had luncheon at the club, and they later in the afternoon joined the throng at the races.

Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Cameron formed a merry party at one of the tables at the club. In another party were Mrs. James Brown, Miss Angelica Schuyler and Albert Eugene Gallatin. Others seen at luncheon were Mrs. and Garrett H. Kip, Mrs. J. Lee Teller, Mr. and Mrs. R. Horace Gallatin, Mr. and Mrs. Montagu La Montagne.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Morse, Mr. and Mrs. W. Halsted Vander Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pinkerton, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cowdin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Haight, Miss Emily Randolph and her fiancé, Philip Stevenson; Harvey S. Ladew, Miss Maud A. Kennedy, Mrs. Dave H. Cod-to a fair start, led the field all the way by a big margin. Culbert and Peyton Breckenridge, which showed so well at the meeting on H. P. Whitney's estate, made their bids at the quarter, but finished after the winner in the order named. Reynold just romped away, although he was at top weight with 168 pounds.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Cherry Malotte earned brackets in the Green Steeplechase. Cherry easily had the foot of the field and set the pace throughout the two and a half miles. Dulcane vainly tried to close the gap on the turn into the stretch, but Cherry breezed in length ahead. Higham, ridden by his owner, came in for show. F. S. Von Stade, who had the leg up on his Ireland Yet, was thrown at the third jump. Later, after a physician examined him, Von Stade said that he feared that his left wrist had been broken. An X-ray examination will be made to-morrow.

Not one of the old turf classics of the Eastern tracks that will be decided during the summer should lack a goodly field.

Of course, the opening day attraction will be the Metropolitan Handicap. Besides this the New York Steeplechase will be run, and the thousands that will throng the grandstand and the clubhouse lawn are sure to see racing that will long be remembered. The flower of the horses in training in the East on the flat and over the jumps will face the starters in these two fixtures.

The Withers, the Amateur Cup and the International Steeplechase are the banner attractions for May 20, Memorial Day.

And from then on every day there will be something of more than usual interest to bring the crowd out to the most attractive race course in America.

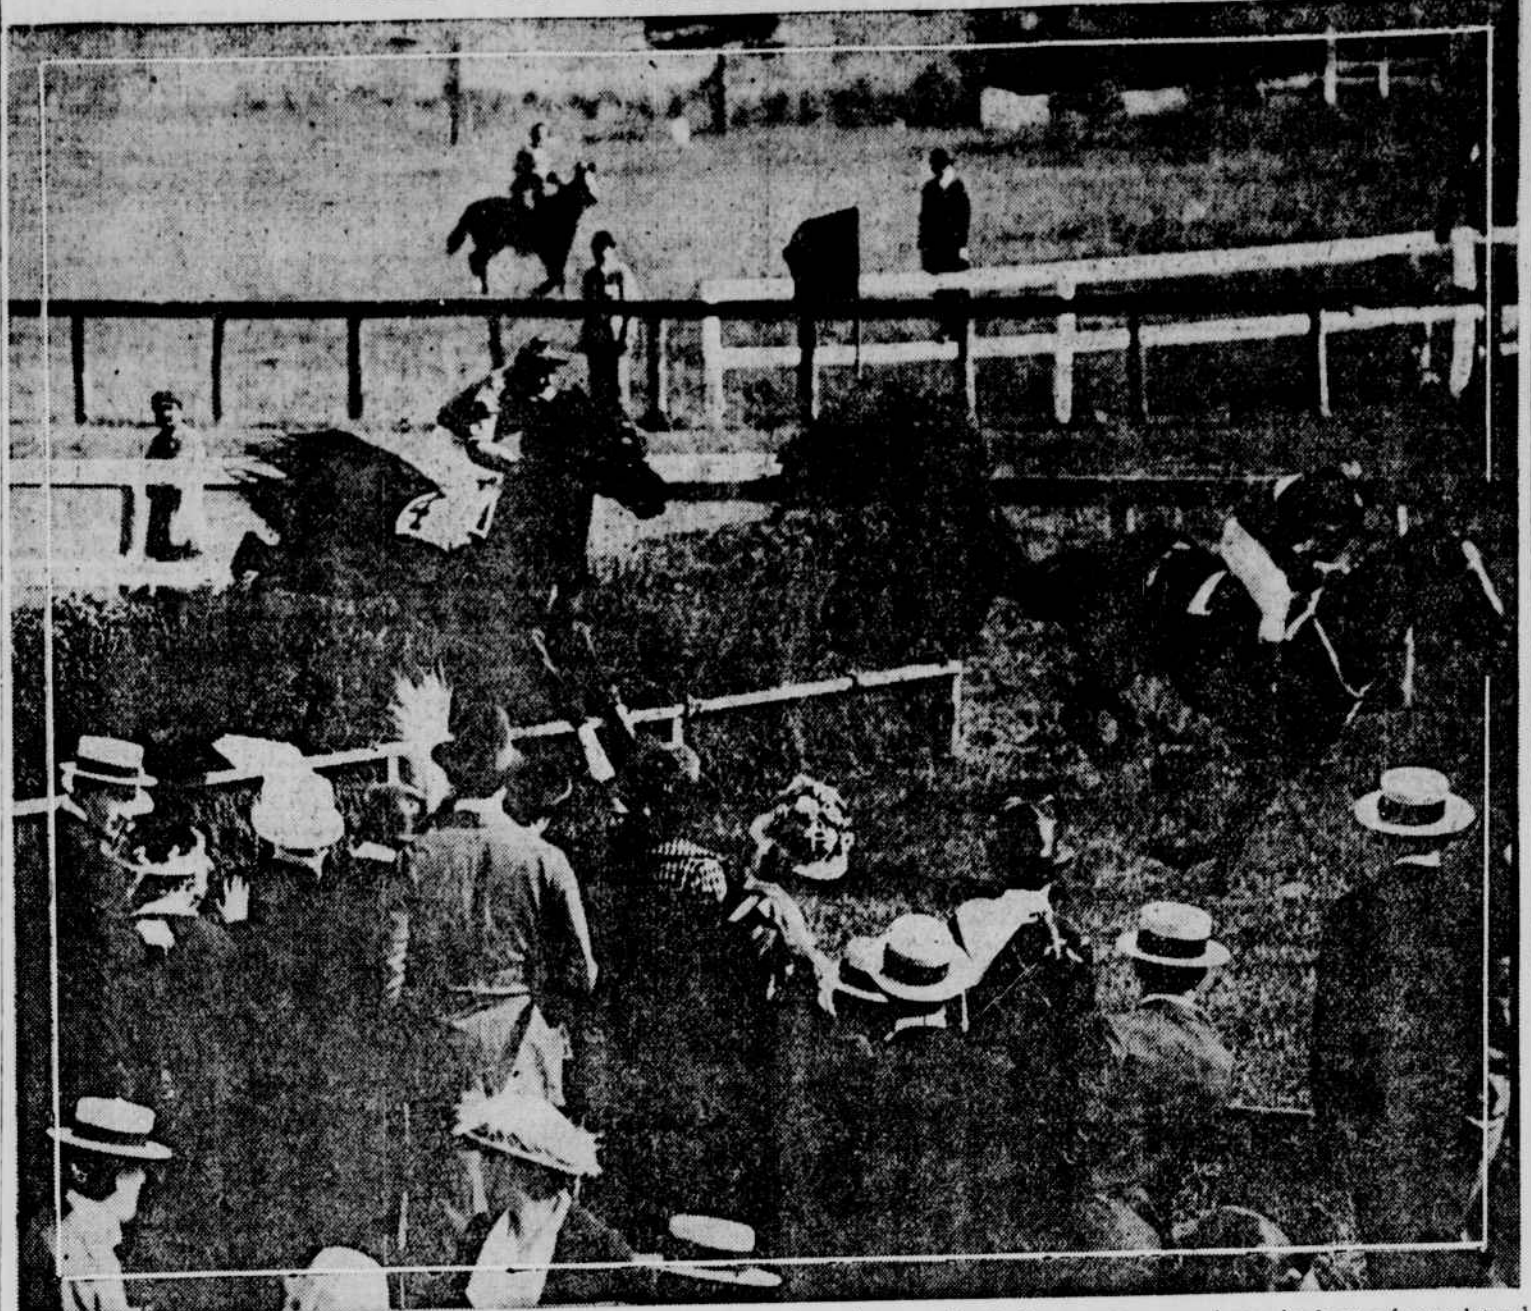

The schedule of the various stakes follows:

May 25—The New York Steeplechase, with thirty-one entries, and the Metropolitan Handicap, with sixty-nine entries.
June 2—The Juvenile, with one hundred and twelve entries.
May 28—The Ladies' Handicap, with forty-five entries.
June 3—The Withers, with forty-eight entries, and the Amateur Cup, with forty-eight entries, and the International Steeplechase, with thirty-three entries.
June 12—The Honquet, with sixty-eight entries.
June 14—Owners' Fund Stakes, the Larchmont, with forty-eight entries.
June 19—The Grand National Steeplechase, with thirty-three entries.
June 21—The Toboggan Handicap, with sixty-nine entries.
June 22—The Keene Memorial, with one hundred and nine entries.
June 26—The Fashion (Stakes), with sixty-eight entries.
June 28—The Harlem, with fifty-one entries.
June 29—The Belmont, with forty-two entries, and Owners' Fund Stakes, the Laureate, with one hundred and twenty entries.

A. M. Earlock has issued the programme books for the twenty-day meeting, and the conditions should suit all horsemen, as it is replete with handicaps, condition races, selling handicaps, while the two-year-olds are especially well provided for.

Quite an attractive novelty is giving all the overnight handicaps distinctive names of towns and points of interest in the neighborhood of Belmont Park, such as the Queens, the Mineola, the Westbury, etc.

CROWD ON RAIL WATCHING RACE FOR DINNER STAKES AT UNITED HUNTS MEETING YESTERDAY

Gold Plate, with B. B. Lewis up, leading August Belmont's Mission, the winner, with B. Haynes up, over jump in front of grandstand in race for the Sportsman's Steeplechase Handicap Dinner Stakes at Belmont Park Terminal yesterday.

RACING TO BEGIN AT BELMONT PARK

Twenty-Day Meeting to Open at the Big Track on Tuesday.

Another season of racing will open at Belmont Park on Tuesday. Then for twenty days the Westchester Racing Association will hold sway with its spring meeting.

The attendance and enthusiasm at the recent amateur meetings was only a forecast of the interest that will be the portion of the regular season. The love of racing is strong in the New York man and woman, and the season of 1914 seems bright in promise for the lovers of the thoroughbred.

Last year the cynics said that racing would never again come into its own in this state, but what happened during the thirty days at Belmont Park last year and the month at Saratoga is history. Most of the old fixtures were revived, and the owners and the members of the Jockey Club that stuck to the ship through its most turbulent days are now beginning to see their efforts rewarded.

This year there will be racing every day from May 25 to September 5 in or near New York, as Saratoga has long been considered a part of the metropolitan circuit. Many of the old favorites and a lot of new ones have been recalled from the tracks of England and the Continent, and the old well known colors will be seen again, but worn by younger riders.

There are several hundred horses at Belmont Park now, and stabling for more than 600 has been engaged.

The horses from Pimlico and Kentucky will come North as soon as the meeting closes there and swell the throng, and that will mean that there will be more than a thousand for the racing secretary to draw on during the course of the meeting.

Not one of the old turf classics of the Eastern tracks that will be decided during the summer should lack a goodly field.

Of course, the opening day attraction will be the Metropolitan Handicap. SQUEEZE WINS FOR PENN

They Use It Twice to Defeat Michigan Nine.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]
Philadelphia, May 23.—Michigan had the advantage of Pennsylvania in their baseball game here to-day at Franklin Field until they ran against the famous squeeze play of the Quakers, which was used twice in the sixth inning for two runs at each try. The final score was 4 to 2 in favor of the Red and Blue.

The Michigan pitcher held Pennsylvania to one line hit—a scratch—and that came at a time when it had nothing whatever to do with the scoring. A couple of bases on balls and an error gave the Quakers their opportunity in the big inning, and they double squeezed in the runs which won the game.

Sayre pitched a good game for the Red and Blue, while the fielding of the game ranged from the sensational to the back lots style.

HARVARD SCORES AGAIN
This Time Yale Falls Before Crimson on Courts.

New Haven, May 23.—Harvard defeated Yale in the annual lawn tennis tournament to-day, taking seven of the nine sets. It was the first defeat for the Blue.

The playing of Williams, the Davis Cup player, and Washburn, both of Harvard, was a feature. Yale captured one match in the singles and one in the doubles.

Colgate Wins on the Track.

Hamilton, N. Y., May 23.—Colgate easily won the Quaker track meet to-day with Lafayette by a score of 73 points to 31.

Three records for the meet were broken, the running high jump, by Terwilliger, at 5 feet 9 inches; the pole vault, by Batte, at 11 feet; and the half mile run, by Van Tuyl, in 1 minute 39 seconds.

Colgate won nine first places.

Cornell Cubs in Defeat.

Philadelphia, May 23.—Pennsylvania's freshman track team to-day defeated Cornell's first year men by a score of 64 to 33.

Shafer and Phillips Win New Laurels on Courts

Beat Grant and Steinacher for Bedford Park Lawn Tennis Club Championship.

G. Carlton Shafer, national indoor champion in doubles with Wylie C. Grant, paired with Benjamin M. Phillips, won new honors yesterday in the dirt court of the Bedford Park Lawn Tennis Club, when he and his partner defeated the same Grant and Julio M. Steinacher in the final round of the doubles for the championship of The Bronx. Five sets were required to decide the mastery between Shafer and his partner won at 8-6, 6-4, 3-6, 3-6, 6-3.

The new champions usurp the place held in 1913 by S. Howard Vossell and F. C. Bages.

Deuce games predominated throughout the match, every point being hard fought, but it was the steadiness of Shafer and his partner that finally gained the day.

After taking the first two sets by reason of their greater accuracy overhead Shafer and Phillips found themselves in the third set confronted by stiffer opposition.

Grant, because of his great height, began to "kill" Phillips' lob line for the net, frequently finding the base line for terrific smashes. His cross-court shots were also instrumental in the winning of many points. Steinacher played well back in the court and handled those balls that his partner was unable to reach.

As a result of their changed tactics Grant and Steinacher took the next two sets at 6-3, 6-3, and with the set score even the big gallery settled down to see the final struggle.

In spite of Grant's clever changing of pace and deadliness overhead, Shafer and Phillips ran into a lead of 4-2 by directing most of their returns at Steinacher, who could not withstand the joint assault.

After taking the seventh game Grant and his partner wilted under the fierce attack of their opponents and gained only a single point in the last two games of the match.

Plenty of Freedom for Oral Betting at Race Meetings

the racetrack inclosure or outside the gates.

The Nassau County authorities will not interfere with the legal rights of the individual, according to the instructions received by the Sheriff yesterday. That officer and his deputies, however, will strictly enforce the law against bookmaking, which has been defined by the courts as the business of laying odds, soliciting and recording bets in a fixed place.

If the Sheriff's men find men taking oral wagers from all comers day after day arrests will follow.

District Attorney Lewis Smith of Nassau County went over the situation at great length yesterday. He said: "An ordinary bet made between two individuals is not a crime, whether that bet be made with or without a memorandum or writing, as I understand the law on the subject. In fact, if two men make more than one bet on a given day at the track that of itself does not constitute a crime, providing neither one of the parties is acting in the capacity of a bookmaker."

In short, the Sheriff and his deputies were told to keep a sharp watch on professional gamblers who might not be willing to obey the rules of the track as laid down by the prosecuting officer. Turfmen believe, in view of the facts, that there will be more freedom at Belmont Park this year than at any time since the passage of the Agnew-Hart law.

DARTMOUTH GETS POINTS: RECORDS GO TO MAINE

Hanoverians Roll Up Big Score for Triumph in N. E. I. C. A. A. Meet.

BAILEY SETS NEW MARK WITH HAMMER

Rice, Another Orono Athlete, Equals Record in 100-Yard Dash, Despite Gale.

Cambridge, Mass., May 23.—Dartmouth won the meet, but Maine did the only record making in the New England intercollegiate championship games in the Harvard Stadium to-day. The athletes from Hanover rolled up 57½ points, only a few less than the big margin of last year. They scored in twelve of the fourteen events.

C. A. Rice, of the University of Maine, and H. P. Bailey, his teammate, helped the Orono College materially in capturing second place with 23 points. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology was third with 25 5-6 points, Colby fourth with 15, while the others were far in the rear.

Rice and Bailey were easily the stars of the meeting. The former ran the hundred yards and the furlong in even figures, and could easily have broken them had he not faced half a gale. His name goes on record with those of Currier, of Amherst, Cloudman, of Bowdoin, and Eswary, of Dartmouth, the only association sprinters in twenty-eight years who have made 100 yards in ten seconds. He also equalled the record of Gram, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, by running the 220-yard dash in twenty-two seconds. As Rice is a freshman, there is thought to be every prospect that he will reach new figures next year.

Bailey was the only record-breaker of the day, with his fling of the hammer 164 feet 8½ inches. No such heave has been seen in the New England intercollegiate before. As the former record by Marden, of Dartmouth, stood at 148 feet 6½ inches, the tremendous heave to-day is expected to stand for years.

Having qualified twenty men in the preliminaries yesterday, Dartmouth had the meeting won to-day from the very start, but Marceau made it a sure thing by capturing the mile run, the first of the final events, in fair time. He allowed Thompson, of Colby, and Benson, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to make the pace for the three-quarters and then pushed into the lead on the back stretch of the last lap.

The Green points rolled in fast after the mile, for O'Connor took the quarter in a fine sprint past Guehing at the finish, Whitney won the shotput on his fling of yesterday and Braun captured the high hurdles in fair time.

With Dartmouth so far ahead, interest dropped back into the fight for second place. For a time fractions only divided Maine and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, but the sprinting of Rice and the weight efforts of Bailey gave the former the place.

The games were run off under clear skies, but a stiff southwest wind proved distracting, particularly to the runners.

The summaries follow:

TRACK EVENTS
100-yard dash (final heat)—Won by C. A. Rice, Maine; P. O'Hara, M. I. T., second; A. S. Llewellyn, Dartmouth, third; C. O. Condon, Dartmouth, fourth. Time, 10.0.
220-yard dash—Won by C. A. Rice, Maine; P. O'Hara, M. I. T., second; C. O. Condon, Dartmouth, third. Time, 22.0.
